Rrrrrrrr Numb. 4792

The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, February 28. 1717.

London, February 28.
Yeſterday arrived a Mail from France.

From the Paris Gazette, dated March 6.

Naples, February 2.

THE Recruits which have been made in this Country, for the Italian Regiments that are in Hungary, and amount to near 2000 Men, including thoſe that have been ſent within a Year paſt, departed laſt Week; and it being ſuppos'd that this Number is not ſufficient, the Levies continue here, and in the Country. Yeſterday the Baggage of 500 Dragoons who are to Guard the Coaſts againſt the Corſairs, were ſent away. The Viceroy has publiſh'd an Order, forbidding Entry into the Caſtles after the Day is ſhut in, and if any one wants after that Time to go to the Governour, a Centry is to conduct him in and out. A Piedmontois Captain, who ſerved in Catalonia, has been arreſted, and committed to the new Caſtle, being accuſed of ſuſpicious Intelligences.

Rome, February 9. On the 5th, Cardinal Acquaviva had Audience of his Holineſs, and gave him an Account of the Diſpatches he had receiv'd by an extraordinary Courier, who brought him at the ſame time, the Nomination of the King of Spain to the Biſhoprick of Corduba. The Provincial and the Rector of the College of the Jeſuits of Sicily, and ſome other Religious, who have been baniſh'd for obſerving the Interdict, are arrived here, and others are expected from that Country. Prince Pamphilio, and the Duke Gaetano challeng'd one another upon a Quarrel between their Coachmen, becauſe that of the former would not make way for the latter to paſs; who fought, and the Coachman of Prince Pamphilio was kill'd. The Maſters having taken up the Quarrel, have both been order'd not to go out of their Houſes, upon the Penalty of 25000 Crowns, and their Friends are labouring a Reconciliation. There has been a Revolt at Montalto againſt the Governour, which the Congregation of the Conſulta having Notice of, ſent a Company of Soldiers, and a Party of Sbirri's to ſuppreſs it. The Divertiſements of the Carnival, and the Races of the Barbs have been made as uſual, but the Shows were left off at the Feaſt of the Purification, in purſuance of a Vow made in 1703, upon the Earthquake which happen'd on that Day the preceeding Year.

Venice, Feb. 13. The Carnival is ended without any Diſorder, except that two German Officers having a Quarrel, fought and kill'd one another. The Electoral Prince of Saxony, the Duke de Guaſtalla, and a great Number of Foreigners, who came hither on Occaſion of the Carnival, are departed. No Letters from the Army, or from Dalmatia, are come in for this Week paſt, by reaſon of the bad Weather, and we felt ſome Days ago a moſt violent Tempeſt, which caſt away many Barks in the Lagunes.

From the Paris News-Letter.

Marſeilles, Feb. 21. A Ship from the Levant is arrived here, the Maſter whereof reports, that he put in at Smirna to lade ſome Goods, where he heard that within a Week 6000 Men were arrived there, of Troops newly raiſed, and that a greater Number were ſuddenly expected, to compleat the 15000 which the Baſſa's of Smirna and Aleppo are to furniſh, purſuant to the Orders of the Grand Seignior: And that they are labouring with great diligence in preparing Ships for tranſporting thoſe Troops to the Morea. They employ the ſame diligence in fitting out the new Sultana's which are very forward, and are to join the others which ſerved laſt Year, and are ready to ſail with the Gallies. He adds, that being ſurpriſed by a Storm, he was forced to put in to the Iſle of Metelino, where there are 7 Sultana's and 3 Gallies ready to Sail, the Seamen whereof are moſtly Europeans. An Engliſh Ship is alſo arrived here from Sicily, who ſay that at their departure, a Report was ſpread, that the great Maſter of Malta was Dead.

Barcelona, Feb. 15. Orders are come from the Court of Madrid, to careen immediately the ſix Gallies that are in this Port, that they may be ready to put to Sea by the Beginning of April. Orders are alſo come to forbear executing any more of the Miquelets, but to commit them to the Gallies as Slaves.

From the Amſt. Courant, dated March 4.

Lyons, Feb. 22. We have Advice from Avignon, that the Abbot Cordona came thither from Rome, to cauſe the Pretender, by the Pope's Order, to depart, and brought with him 20000 Scudi, to pay the Debts which he and thoſe of his Retinue had contracted in that City: And that accordingly, the Pretender ſet out the 6th from that Place for Savoy, but that ſome of his Followers remain there ſtill, who ſeem to be in great Conſternation and Concern, not only from the Departure of their Maſter, but alſo from ſome bad News they are ſaid to have receiv'd; and they make great Complaints againſt the Regent of France. The Inhabitants of this City complain, that within this Year paſt, above an Hundred ſubſtantial and formerly rich Traders, are come to Poverty and Ruin.

Paris, Feb. 26. There are lately brought hither many Briefs from the Court of Rome, directed to the Regent, the Cardinals, ſeveral Biſhops, and the Sorbonne, not from the Pope himſelf, but from the Cardinal de Paolucci, in the Quality of his Holineſs's Miniſter. And we underſtand, that the Pontiff has excommunicated four Doctors of the Sorbonne, namely M. Lambert, M. Ravechet, M. Du Pin, and one more; but theſe Doctors make but very ſmall Account of that Sentence. This Week ſeveral Commiſſaries of the Chamber of Finances were ſent into the Provinces and Towns, to adjuſt and duly proportionate the Aſſeſſments of the Taillie, or Family Tax, which is to be levied all over the Kingdom, in place of ſeveral Impoſts which will be annull'd; whereby the King's Revenues will not be diminiſhed, and yet the Subjects be very greatly reliev'd. The Pope's Nuncio M. Bentivoglio was Yeſterday at St. Germains; his Auditor has ſaid, that the Chevalier de St. George would tarry ſome time at Chambery, by Permiſſion of the King of Sicily: But 'tis reported, that the Miniſter of that Prince at our Court, denies and contradicts it; and on the contrary, 'tis ſaid, he aſſur'd the Earl of Stairs, that the King his Maſter will not in any Manner aſſiſt the Pretender. And the Earl of Stairs had, before his Departure for London, obtained of the Regent, that a ſtrict Eye ſhall be kept at the Poſt-Houſes, both here and on the Coaſt, on the Letters that come from the Jacobites in England, or their Correſpondents here.

London, February 28.
